GENERAL MANAGER AND HEAD COACH

DOUG DAIGNEAULT

The dean of university basketball coaches in Quebec, Concordia's Doug Daigneault enters his 19th season behind the bench convinced the 1985-86 edition of the Stingers will capture a provincial title and hopefully proceed to the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union Championships. Doug is one of the most respected cage mentors in the country, and you need only look at his record to understand why. Over the last two decades he has amassed 11 league titles and last year he was named Quebec University Athletic Association men's basketball coach of the year for the fifth time. This year he surpassed the 400 win plateau. Last year's club appeared headed for the provincials until star Craig Norman broke a bone in his foot late in the season. Despite the big guard's absence Daigneault's troops finished the conference schedule at a 9-3 clip, good enough for second place, losing out for top spot in the final contest of the campaign against McGill before a packed house at Concordia. Overall the Stingers were 15-7, winning the Lakehead Invitational Tournament.

Daigneault started his coaching career in Ottawa and came to Loyola College in 1966 as its first full-time basketball instructor. He quickly built the program into one of the strongest in Canada, capturing five conference titles and registering an unprecedented string of 66 consecutive victories in league play. When Loyola and Sir George Williams University merged to form Concordia in 1974, he was chosen to guide the Stingers.

Born in Montreal, Doug grew up in Malone, New York and has been acclaimed one of the finest all-round athletes to ever be produced in the upper New York State region. He earned all-star honors at Franklin Academy in basketball, football and baseball before attending Clemson University. There he received a Bachelor of Science degree and played in the Orange, Blue Bonnett and Sugar Bowl games. Following his graduation, Doug returned to Canada and signed with the Canadian Football League Ottawa Rough Riders, going to the Grey Cup in his rookie year. He later played for the now defunct Montreal Alouettes and Winnipeg Blue Bombers. A back injury ended his playing career, but turned him in the direction of Loyola where Enos handed the reigns of the basketball team over to him.

When George Dixon surrendered the head coaching duties of the Loyola football club in 1971 Doug was offered and accepted the position in addition to his basketball duties. What was supposed to be only a temporary arrangement lasted seven years until Skip Rochette was brought in to take over the program, allowing Daigneault to devote all of his time to basketball.

Doug works year-round on trying to put the best possible team out on the gymnasium floor. He is coming off a particularly busy off-season, which saw him pick up two new assistant coaches. While John Dore is back for his fifth season, Harvey Liverman and Marty Caplan are newcomers. Their duties will include individual tutelage for players at practice, working from either behind the bench or in the crowd at games, scouting, recruiting and other off court matters. Gone from last year's coaching staff is Andy Mezey, who chose to vacate his post in order to spend more time at home with his family.

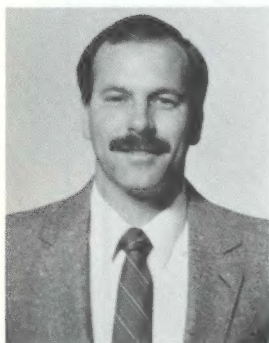

Not surprisingly, Doug's children are exceptional athletes. Three of his daughters have excelled in swimming. Lois and Debbie attended Clemson and Miami Universities, on scholarships, while Julie entered the latter school last year after returning from the 1984 Los Angeles Summer Olympic Games, where she represented Canada. Doug's two sons, Dean, 14 and Robbie, 12, haven't developed a particular sport they'd like to devote themselves to. Basketball, football, swimming and rowing are part of their regular repertoire in Chateaugay, which the Daigneault's call home.

Internationally speaking Doug assisted national team coach Jack Donahue with the Canadian program three summers ago as preparations began for the Olympics.

Doug's wife, Linda is a big Stinger fan.

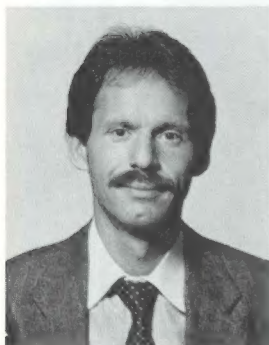

ASSISTANT COACHING STAFF

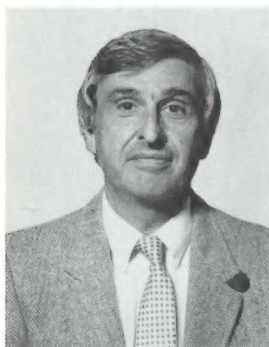

JOHN DORE

A native of Queen's, New York, John Dore came to Montreal 14 years ago because of basketball, and he's never left. Now entering his fifth season as Doug Daigneault's chief assistant coach, John was a three-time Quebec University Athletic Association all-star guard while playing for Loyola and then Concordia when the merger with Sir George took place. A good example of someone who mixed scholastics with athletics, he graduated in 1975 with a Science degree in Biology and Physical Education. He found full-time employment almost immediately at George's School in Westmount, where he is now the department head of physical education and athletics. And that's not all. Basketball coaching positions arose as assistant women's varsity coach at Concordia and head coach of the Vanier College men's team. There, he compiled a 35-25 mark, including two playoff appearances, before being lured back to Concordia as one of Doug Daigneault's assistants. His role at St. George's, which is a private elementary and high school, has proven most valuable to the university because he is able to get a close look at some of the better high schoolers as they go through the system. John was once offered a contract to travel with the famous Harlem Globe Trotters and play for the opposing team. He elected to stay here instead, where he now makes his home with wife Malka (a former member of the Loyola Tommies) and daughters Lisa and Lauren. During the summer months John is co-ordinator of the Fast Break Basketball Camp at Bishop's University in Lennoxville.

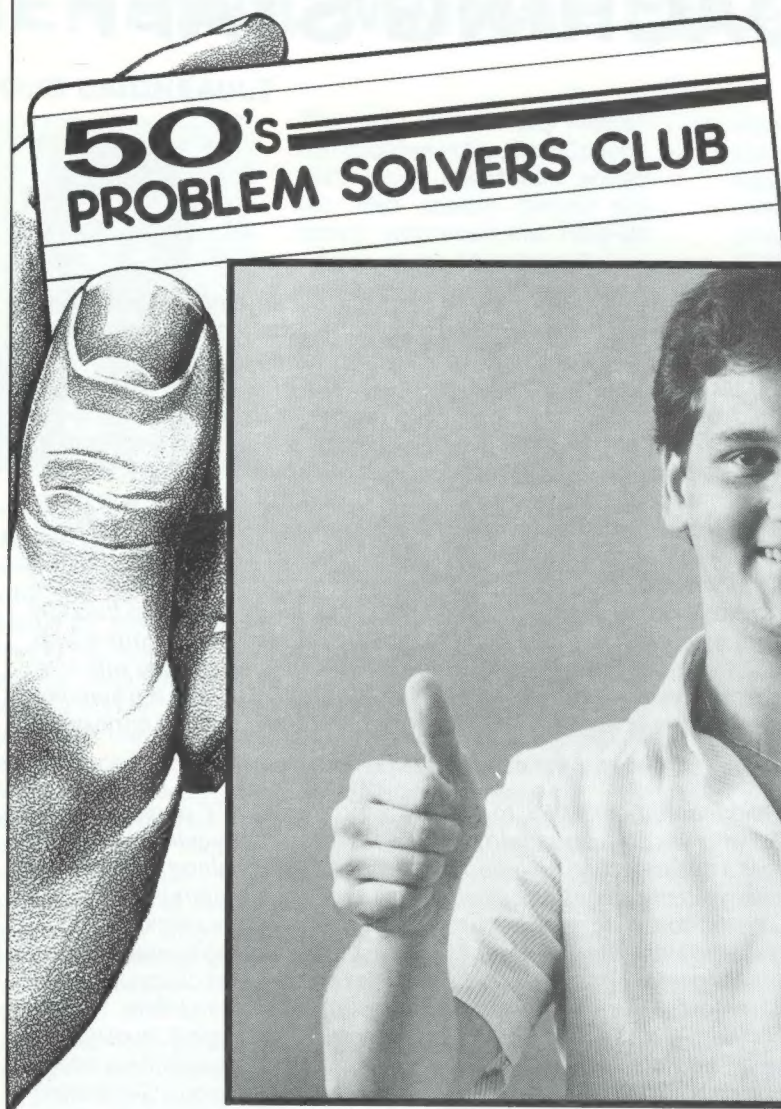

HARVEY LIVERMAN

A former player under Doug Daigneault, from 1968 to 1972, six-foot-three, 177 pound Harvey Liverman was a dedicated forward who was always ready to play whenever the coach called upon him. Even though it has been well over a decade since he graduated, Harvey has remained close to the local hoop scene, attending as many varsity games as possible. Well aware of his interest in the program, Daigneault asked him to join the coaching staff last summer when Andy Mezey announced he would not return. This is the 37-year-old Hampstead resident's first crack at coaching basketball, and he's enjoying it. Besides attending all games and practices, he intends on doing a lot of scouting and recruiting for the Stingers to insure excellence in the years to come. An all-round athlete, Harvey always stood out in basketball. He averaged 33 points a game for the Northmount High School during the four years he spent at the West End institution, gaining most valuable player honors three times. Liverman was also a standout performer for the Snowdon YMHA Blues and the University Settlement Orchids Community Centre. As a youngster he played a lot of baseball. While toiling for the St. Henri Junior squad the slick fielding third baseman was scouted by the Philadelphia Phillies. Off the court Harvey owns and operates Pegroid's Limited, one of Montreal's most successful catering services. When Pete Rose got career hit number 4,000 in a Montreal Expos uniform Harvey had a special cake made and sent to Olympic Stadium. Harvey and his wife Elaine have two daughters, Lauren, 10 and Jami, 7.

MARTY CAPLAN

Officially, this will be Marty Caplan's first season as an assistant coach to Doug Daigneault at Concordia. However, if you didn't know any better, it seemed as if he was part of the basketball staff during the 1984-85 campaign, judging by the amount of hours he spent at the Athletic Complex. Marty has always taken a great interest in the Stinger program, but last year his gung-ho attitude really got to Daigneault. So, when Andy Mezey decided to step down as assistant coach Doug knew just where to turn for a replacement. Born and raised in Outremont, the 49-year-old Caplan played for the Sir George Williams Georgians at forward in 1959. That marked the first time he had ever participated in organized basketball. All his previous experience had been in recreation play. He later moved on to become an integral member of the Snowdon Young Men's - Young Women's Hebrew Association (YM-YWHA) Blues and played for the Yvon Coutu Huskies of the now defunct Can-Am Basketball League, a semi-pro operation where he first met Daigneault, who was playing for an Ottawa based club. He got into coaching first at St. George's school in Westmount and then at the YM-YWHA where, until recently, he served as chairman of the athletics committee. He gave the position up to join the Stingers. He's looking forward to his new endeavor and plans to do a top notch job in the scouting department. Marty and his wife Honey live in Cote St. Luc. They have two children: Beverley, 24, who will be married this winter and lives in Toronto and Henry, 21 who attends New York University.

LUC GIASSON OF LAVAL

"It was bad enough getting a flat right in the middle of nowhere. Then I realized how rusted the bolts were. No matter how hard I tried, I couldn't budge the tire iron! Then I got an idea: I fitted an extra piece of pipe into the hollow end of one of the handles and let the principle of leverage work for me. Got the tire changed in no time flat!"

JOHN BAIRD
18/04/63, 6'5 200
Center Forward

Montreal, Quebec
3rd Year Commerce

Big things are expected from John as he enters his third season in a Stinger uniform since arriving via Champlain College. He's coming off a good camp and according to coach Daigneault "John's the quickest big man we've got." If he continues to work on the weights and develops a better touch around the basket, his value to the team will increase. Well liked by all his teammates, John has been known to keep everyone loose in the locker room with his good sense of humour.

MIKE BAKER
10/05/65, 5'11 176
Guard

Vankleek Hill, Ontario
Freshman, Sociology

A first year player out of Vankleek Hill Collegiate Institute, Mike was attending a basketball camp in Hawkesbury last year when he met Stinger star performers Craig Norman and Biagio Carrese who recommended he give head coach Doug Daigneault a call. He took their advice and today he's wearing the Concordia Maroon, Gold and White. A hard working youngster, Mike will likely be eased into the lineup slowly. One of the players to look for in the years to come.

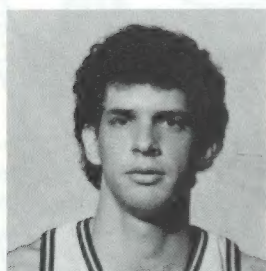

BIAGIO CARESSE - Tri-Captain
07/03/63, 6'5 215
Guard/Forward

Montreal, Quebec
4th Year Graduate Studies

One of the main catalysts of the Stinger offensive attack, Biagio bounced back from knee surgery last year to enjoy an outstanding season in which he led the team in scoring with 456 points in 24 games, and was named a Quebec University Athletic Association all-star. A fine outside shooter, he obtained his Liberal Arts degree at last summer's convocation, but elected to return to Concordia this year and pursue graduate studies. The knee injury he suffered late in the 1983-84 campaign could have ended his career, but he worked extra hard and, with the help of a brace, is now 100 percent.

PETER DIUITROULOPOULOS
15/01/67, 6'1 180
Guard

St. Laurent, Quebec
Freshman, Computer Science

Referred to as simply Peter D, for obvious reasons, the six-foot-one guard from St. Laurent was a walk on at training camp. He impressed coach Daigneault with his shooting and jumping ability. Peter is the first player to join a Stinger basketball team directly from Greece, where he spent the past four years toiling for a high school squad in the town of Athens. At 18 years of age, he's the youngest player in Quebec.

CHRIS FRANCIS
13/01/64, 6'2 185
Guard

Chateauguay, Quebec
Freshman, Sociology

One of the more highly recruited CEGEP basketball players in Canada, Chris worked especially hard last summer finishing off his commitments at Dawson College before being accepted to Concordia. Coach Daigneault believes he has all the tools to become one of the best point guards in Quebec. Playing along side veterans Craig Norman and Biagio Carrese, this year should speed up his adjustment period. Chris has a fine jump shot and is quick on defense. "He's the type of player people will love to watch," insists the coach.

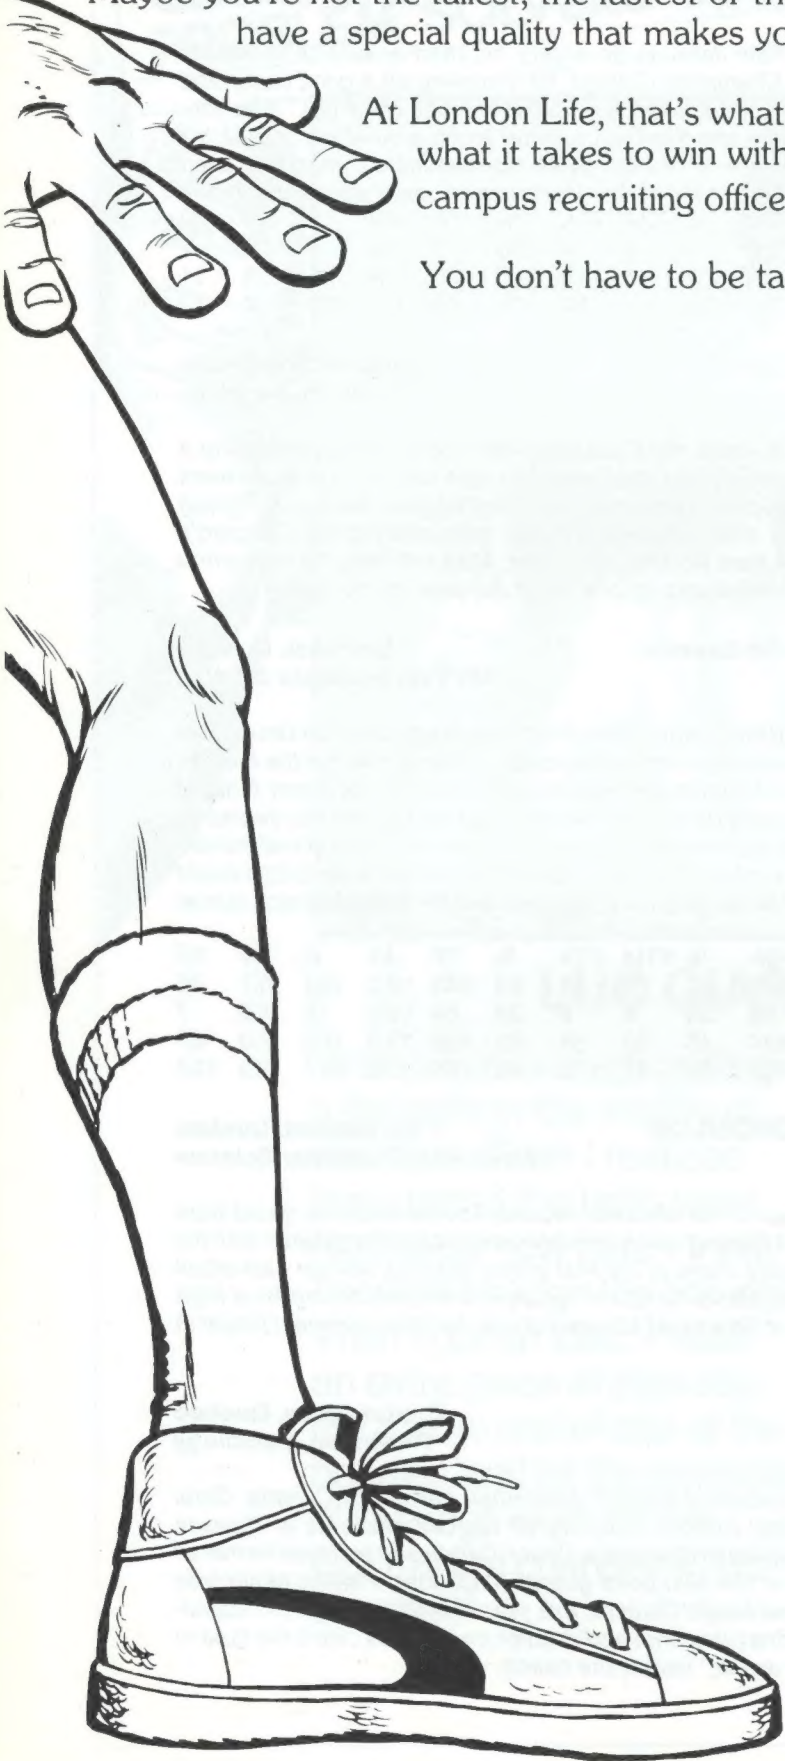

You don't have to be tall, but you've gotta be good.

Maybe you're not the tallest, the fastest or the strongest. But you're on the team. You have a special quality that makes you a winner and the very best you can be.

CRAIG NORMAN – Tri-Captain
09/07/62, 6'5 195
Guard

Montreal, Quebec
4th Year M.A. Education

When Craig broke a bone in his foot against McGill last winter, with four games remaining in the season, it looked as though a very successful varsity cage career had come to an end. The injury put him out for the duration of the campaign and since it was his graduating year, there didn't appear to be much hope of him returning. Yet, here he is back again, going for his Master's degree in Education and still eligible for another two years on the court. Craig was selected as a Quebec University Athletic Association all-star for the second year in a row and could have gained all-Canadian honors if it were not for his mishap. Coach Daigneault call him one of the finest players to ever perform at Concordia.

KELVIN ROBINSON
27/06/65, 6'2 190
Forward

Brossard, Quebec
2nd Year Academic Psychology

Like Neil Hiscox, Kelvin was spotted by coach Daigneault taking part in Concordia's intramural basketball program last year. "We felt with his athletic ability, if he worked very hard, he could make the varsity," said the coach. "And he did." He played CEGEP ball at Champlain College and has also excelled in the area of track and field as a sprinter.

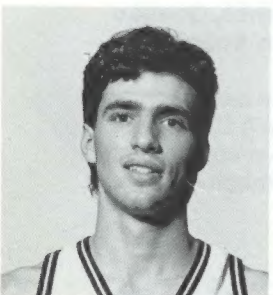

HAROUTH TARAKJIAN
10/04/63, 6'3 200
Guard/Forward

Dollard des Ormeaux, Quebec
4th Year Psychology

Born in Beirut, Lebanon, Harout is an outstanding offensive player who came to Stingers via Dawson College. Playing in all 24 games last season he proved to be a good two way competitor, popping in 137 points. Coach Daigneault expects to use him coming off the bench quite often this year, most notably in a shooting capacity. When Craig Norman went down with a broken foot last season Harout stepped right to take his place. The type of player who can break a game wide open.

Bobby is coming off a fine freshman year in which he impressed coach Daigneault with his hard-nosed play. He is the fiery type of individual each team needs to ignite its offense. Last season he was eased into lineup, starting about half of the games, but participating in all 24. His previous basketball stints were at Holly Names High School and Champlain College. He also plays soccer and volleyball.

ANDREW HADJIDAKIS

24/11/64, 6'7 192

Forward/Center

Andrew spent last season with the Dawson College AAA squad. Although he hasn't played a great deal of basketball over the years, coach Daigneault believes that with his size a few tips in the right direction could help him refine his skills and become an outstanding performer. The coach likes his desire and attitude.

Freshman, Commerce

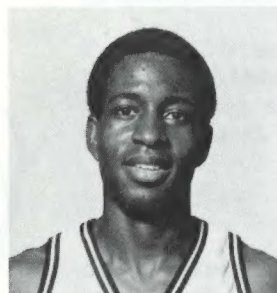

NEIL HISCOX

23/06/65, 6'6 215

Center

This is Neil's second year at Concordia, but he's a rookie in the varsity basketball circles. He elected to spend his first two semesters concentrating on school, however he remained active on the court playing intramurals, and where coach Daigneault was able to get a look at him. Neil doesn't have a great deal of experience in the game. There was no basketball team at the high school he attended (John Renie), but he saw a lot of playing time with the John Abbott College Islanders two years ago. "Great potential," says the coach. "you just look at Neil and you know he's a basketball player."

PARNELL JOSEPH

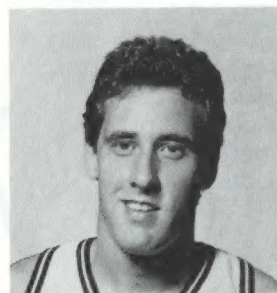

6'0 165

Guard

A highly coveted player during his CEGEP days with the AAA College Maisonneuve Vikings, Parnell played in all 24 Stinger games last season and scored 114 points. He adjusted well to the university scene and is coming off a very impressive training camp. Coach Daigneault feels he will be a major factor in the club's drive for a Quebec University Athletic Association title this year, and a berth in the nationals.

ROB LATTER - Tri-Captain

23/03/62, 6'8 225

Center

Possibly the best six-foot-eight center in the country, this will be Rob's first season with the Stingers. Coach Daigneault feels his attitude and desire will put him in contention for all-Canadian honors. A great rebounder, Rob is very aggressive offensively. Daigneault has had his eye on this young man since he started in high school for Lower Canada College and at the CEGEP level, for Vanier College. Rob also enjoys playing football, hockey and golf. At this year's Concordia Adidas Tipoff tournament, won by the Stingers, Rob gained most valuable player honors and was selected to the all-star team.

MIRCO BUTH

6'5 220

Mirco joins the hoopsters following an extremely successful rookie campaign at inside receiver with the football Stingers. A big strong center, coach Daigneault feels he'll be a big factor coming off the bench for Concordia in the second half of the 1985-86 schedule. Mirco played CEGEP basketball for John Abbott College.

ADIDAS TIP-OFF TOURNAMENT

The Stingers certainly began the current 1985-86 basketball season on the right foot by capturing their own Adidas Tip-off Tournament at the Athletic Complex, nudging out conference rival University of Quebec at Trois-Rivières 70-60 in the deciding game. Rob Latter became an immediate Concordia fan favourite during the event, which took place October 25, 26 and 27. He enjoyed 23 points games in the Stingers' 93-53 and 76-49 triumphs over Royal Military College and Ottawa respectively and added 18 more in the championship match. Latter was named tournament most valuable player and was selected to the all-star team along with teammate Craig Norman.

THE SCHENLEY AWARDS

The Monde Selection is among the most coveted awards in the spirits industry. It is recognized as the "symbol of quality" by over 170 countries.

Why? Because only the Monde Selection is awarded according to both the subjective judgment of experts and the objective analysis of scientific tests.

Thus, we're very proud that in the last ten years Schenley has won more Monde Selection Awards than any other distiller in Canada.

We've earned 33 Gold, 12 Silver and 4 Bronze medals.

It's a remarkable record of achievement, confirming that when it comes to fine spirits...

Schenley is best.

SCHENLEY O.F.C.

The winner of 10 Gold medals, plus the competition's highest award...the Monde Selection perpetual trophy. Obviously, one of Canada's outstanding 8-year-old whiskies.

TROIKA VODKA

This exceptional vodka has won 5 Gold, 1 Silver and 1 Bronze. Troika has also won the loyalty of Canadians who appreciate a winning bloody mary or screwdriver.

SCHENLEY LONDON DRY GIN

The only dry gin to ever win a Monde Selection Gold medal, not once, but five times! It's the main ingredient for an award winning martini.

RON CARIOCA WHITE RUM

Winner of 2 Gold, 4 Silver and 1 Bronze, and a winner for those who appreciate the refreshing taste of rum made from pure cane spirits imported from the Tropics.

A taste you can call your own.
